Site for County's Flagpole Unchanged at Committee Meet

But Erection of Staff Is Ordered Halted Until Another Meet

All work on the erection of the giant, 85-foot flag pole in the Lee county courthouse yard has been stopped until Wednesday, it was announced by the board of supervisors building committee after a lengthy meeting this morning with A. C. Higby, supervisor of Dixon township, at the courthouse.

H. O. Risetter, chairman of the committee, meanwhile, said that veterans' organizations or any other public groups who wish to file petitions opposing or favoring the selected location of the flag pole should do so immediately.

He said any petitions filed will receive consideration when the committee meets again Wednesday at 8 a. m. at the courthouse. The petitions may be filed in the office of Sheriff Gilbert P. Finch, he said.

Behind Closed Doors

Risetter announced the decision to continue discussion of the flag pole location at noon, after a lengthy committee meeting behind closed doors.

The meeting this morning, at which the committee also discussed the problem at length with Higby, came after the Dixon supervisor yesterday had ordered work on erection of the pole in the courthouse square stopped shortly before cement was to be poured in the base.

Higby said he took this action after many complaints had been received about the location of the pole. The committee had designated a spot at the edge of the north entrance steps of the courthouse. Higby said the veterans' groups and others felt the pole should be more centrally located, halfway down the center walk on the north lawn.

He said then that he would

Russ UN Home to Get Inspection

Glen Cove, N. Y., July 23—(AP)—The Glen Cove building inspector, who says his nose led him to an estate occupied by Russian United Nations personnel, plans to go back there today.

The inspector, Joseph Stanco, discovered yesterday that an overflowing cesspool on the 20-acre estate was the source of an odor that caused complaints among residents here for the last 10 days.

The pool was pumped out and the odor subsided. But Stanco said that when he proposed a fire inspection of the 45-room house, a Soviet attache, J. Krasivoco refused, saying:

"We Russians are very careful. We do not smoke in bed."

The Russians pay a reported $2,000 monthly rental on the house, but but it has fallen into disrepair. Since a Glen Cove building code requires that a home occupied by more than 15 persons must be fireproof Stanco said he asked Krasivoco how many persons occupied the house, but was refused an answer.

He quoted Krasivoco as saying: "Your country is so funny. Just leave us alone. That is all we want. There are laws for American people and laws for Russian people, and yours do not concern us here. Don't worry about us."

However, Glen Cove Mayor Luke A. Mercadante said Stanco later had obtained permission to return to the house today for an inspection.

Severe Storm Hits Rockford Vicinity

Rockford, Ill., July 23—(AP)—Strong winds which accompanied a drenching rain in the Rockford area yesterday afternoon unroofed several buildings.

At Pecatonica, 15 miles west, an airport hangar was blown down and twod planes damaged.

A brick building housing shops and apartments at Love's Park, four miles north, was unroofed and rain poured into the upper floors.

Trees were blown down and main streets blocked in Belvidere.

Airport officials here said the wind was 80 miles an hour at the peak of the mid-afternoon storm. About an inch of rain fell within 15 minutes.

Eric Adolphs, 62, was injured when he was blown from the roof of a home he was repairing in Rockford.

Peterson's Trial Delayed One Week

Trial on a charge of reckless driving against Donald Peterson, 31, Dixon truck driver, was continued to next Friday morning in Lee County court by Judge Grover W. Gehant today after Peterson entered a plea of not guilty to the charge.

The reckless driving count is the outgrowth of an accident on route 30 five miles east of route 22 Wednesday evening involving a truck driven by Peterson and a car.

A woman and two children in the car were injured. Mrs. Joseph Alagna, 32, Milwaukee, Wis., suffered a broken leg, her daughter, Diane, 9, suffered cuts and bruises, and a nephew, Danny Sokolowski, 2, also suffered cuts and bruises.

Knox Professor Gets Post in Junior College

Hackettstown, N. J., July 23—(AP)—Edward W. Seay, 37 director of admissions and associate professor of economics at Knox college, Galesburg, was elected president of Centenary junior college at a meeting of the trustees yesterday.

Seay is expected to take over his new duties Sept. 1, succeeding Dr. Hurst R. Anderson who will become president of Hamline university, St. Paul, Minn.

Seay joined the Knox college faculty in 1943 after five years as head of Wood junior college, Mathiston, Miss. He is a graduate of Peabody college, Nashville, Tenn.

Republican House Leader Predicts Little Action in Special Session

Washington, July 23—(AP)—A prediction that the special session of congress will last no longer than amonth and produce few—if any new laws came today from a ranking Republican leader in the house.

Outlining what he called his party's "don't get-excited" strategy, this GOP spokesman said the lawmakers may call it quits within three weeks of their reconvening next Monday.

If any bills do get through, he told a reported privately, they may include some sort of federal aid for education—"about a 50-50 chance"—and one or more civil rights proposals.

This leader said it is very unlikely that housing or anti-inflation measures will be brought out for formal debate, although there may be some further committee discussions.

"Nothing much will be passed," he said. "There will be no minor legislation of any kind put through and I am not sure anything else will be, either. We will be out of here in three weeks, or a month at the very outside."

He agreed with Rep. Brown (R-Ohio) and Herbert Brownell, presidential campaign manager for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, that the present congress is not obligated to make good on the 1948 Republican platform.

"That is for the next congress," he said. "This one has made its record. We will let the president have his say, spend a little time on speeches and so forth, then clear out."

Top Republican policy makers in congress will meet Monday morning before the extra session opens at noon. They have been conferring by telephone since Truman announced the session to the Democratic national convention in Philadelphia.

Home-Made Bomb Is Dropped From Low-Flying Two-Seater

Plane Which Landed at LaGuardia Field Contained Map of Area

Lake Success, N. Y., July 23—(AP)—An ex-Army flier, worried about a new war, was sought today as the pilot who dived at United Nations headquarters and dropped a missle which exploded harmlessly nearby.

The U. N. trusteeship council was in session when the missle, believed by police to be a home-made bomb, went off yesterday near the ground about 100 feet from the entrance of the central U. N. building.

The blast was heard a mile away.

Delegates and staff members were thrown into a state of excitement. Scores of them rushed to the windows of U. N. chambers. Others poured outside as a small yellow and orange plane banked and flew away.

Police said one panicky U. N. staff member telephoned and cried: "We're being bombed. We're being bombed".

A plane answering the description of the one from which the missile was dropped landed a short time later at LaGuardia Field.

Its pilot, who identified himself as Stephen J. Supina, 36, a former B-17 turret gunner of Willington, Conn., left the field.

13-State Alarm Sent Out

Police sent out a 13-state alarm for Supina on a felony charge of malicious mischief.

At Ashford, Conn., Supina's brother, former Connecticut State Representative Thomas Supina, Jr., said "Steve has been pretty upset, seeing the world on the edge of another war".

The elder Supina said his brother thought that "U. N. has not been forceful enough in trying to maintain peace", that "they're a bunch of appeasers", and that "somebody ought to blast the U. N. into action".

Ever since Stephen came from the war, Thomas said, he had been very disturbed about the state of world affairs.

Guards at U. N. headquarters, located in suburban Nassau county on Long Island, said the plane

Baltic "Pilgrims" Arrive in Boston

Boston, July 23—(AP)—A hardy band of 29 Baltic natives who braved an Atlantic ocean crossing in a 64-foot ketch "to escape Russian oppression" anxiously awaited immigration service hearings today with hopes of being allowed to "live in freedom" in the United States.

The refugees' small craft—the Gundel—dropped anchor in Boston harbor yesterday after sailing up from the colonial port of Provincetown, where the ketch arrived after 43 days at sea.

An immigration official said hearings for the 29 refugees—all of whom arrived without visas or entry permit—probably will last three days. He added that if the Boston office decides to exclude them from this country, they may appeal to the Immigration Commission in Washington and to the U. S. attorney general's office.

Living-Cost Index at All-Time Peak

The cost-of-living index struck an all-time high on June 15, with food prices reaching record-shattering levels, the Bureau of Labor statistics reported today.

The index representing retail prices of goods and services bought by moderate income families in large cities, hit 171.7 per cent of the 1935-1939 average.

As the record-smashing living cost figures were disclosed, President Truman force ahead with preparation of recommendations he will make to congress Tuesday for dealing with inflation and rising prices.

The White House announced Mr. Truman's appointment of Paul A. Porter as a special assistant to the President to help with preparation of anti-inflation legislation.

Non-Salaried Job

Porter, the last chief of the wartime office of Price Administration, will serve on a temporary, non-salaried basis. The White House said his job will be to coordinate information to be given Congress in behalf of the anti-inflation bill being drafted.

The BLS index on living costs, covering the period up to June 15,

Chances in Coming Election Are Held "Fine" by Wallace

Self-Nominated Candidate for President Is at Convention

Philadelphia, July 23—(AP)—Henry A. Wallace said today he will not repudiate any support that comes to him "on the basis of peace" in his third party presidential race.

Wallace told a news conference that if the communists want to support him he will not denounce them. At the same time, he said, no one is going to be able to prove that he is a communists.

The third party presidential candidate, arriving for the opening tonight of a convention which will nominate him for president and Senator Glen Taylor of Idaho for vice president, sailed into the communist issue at his first meeting with reporters.

Wallace said that wherever he has gone newspapermen have attempted to pin him down on the communist question.

He repeated a statement he made last May in which he said there is no question that reports of communist support for his candidacy constitute "a political liability".

"This convention will mark a great turning point in the history of this party, the United States and the world," he said to several hundred party leaders, delegates and party workers who greeted him at the Pennsylvania railroad's Broad street station with shouts

In Demand

Birmingham, Ala., July 23—(AP)—The sale of Confederate flags has skyrocketed here and the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce credits the recent meeting of rebellious southern Democrats for the boom.

Letters and telephone calls from throughout the nation for the Stars and Bars have swamped flag dealers, Chamber officials say.

One woman from Brooklyn said she not only wanted the Confederate flag but the Alabama flag as well.

Line at Convention of 'Gideon's Army' Like Radio Moscow

By RELMAN MORIN

Philadelphia, July 23—(AP)—This is a closeup of Gideon's army.

It is a group of whites and Negroes, sitting together. It is the very young and the very old. It is the woman who listens with passionate and unwavering attention to every speaker regardless of his subject. It is the man in polo shirt chewing a toothpick. It is a grey and tired lettist. It is a pretty girl with eyes that shimmer at every mention of Henry Wallace's name.

Some of these people are poor and some are not. Some are said to be rich.

Some are seasoned campaigners, experienced politicians with Dr. Rex Tugwell and husky, pipe-smoking Lee Pressman. But there are also housewives here and college professors and earnest youngsters.

They have quality in common. They are intense, deadly serious. Laughter seldom rises in this room. It is hot with anger and sustained indignation over a wide variety of subjects.

North Koreans Fire on Five Americans

Seoul, July 23—(AP)—The U. S. Army said today Russian hand grenades were used by North Koreans in ambushing five American soldiers near the occupation boundary Monday. A private from Brooklyn was killed.

The Army, elaborating on an earlier report, said Koreans dressed as civilians attacked an outpost 400 yards south of the U.S.-Russian line in bright moonlight.

The Army said the five, taken by surprise, were overwhelmed. A jeep, pulling up with two relief guards, was hit by a grenade. The Koreans withdrew, then began firing from a cornfield.

The Koreans had taken the rifles of the five at the outpost, but they returned fire with the guns of the relief men until forced to withdraw under superior fire.

Several Accidents in City Over Night

Three out-of-town drivers, Judson M. Dilworth, 4755 North Paulina, Chicago; Raymond J. Eich, Franklin Grove, and Mrs. R. L. Kraft, Sterling, were involved in a triple auto collision at Second street and Peoria avenue at 11:30 p. m. yesterday. Slight damage was caused to all of the cars.

At 4:45 p. m. yesterday, a car owned by Phil Hammond, parked in front of 802 Peoria avenue, rolled down the hill when the brakes failed to hold, striking a tree in front of Dr. L. W. Hinkle's residence, 723 Peoria avenue.

This morning at 1:15 a. m., cars driven by Lloyd Miller, 409 East Fifth street, and Andrew J. Smith, route 1, Polo, sustained minor damage when they crashed on North Galena avenue at the Illinois Central railroad tracks.

Today's Events in Tense World Are Summarized by AP

(By The Associated Press)

Hope increased in Washington today that the Berlin blockade crisis could be solved without a shooting war.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay departs from there tonight to resume his post as U. S. military governor in Berlin armed with the latest policy decision for dealing with the crisis the Russians provoked 27 days ago.

President Truman's assertion that he considers excellent the chances of achieving eventual world peace appeared to be based in part on the hope that Russia will cooperate with the western powers in their avowed intention of seeking a settlement short of war. It was noted that the Soviets thus far have refrained from any kind of military action, even of an "accidental" sort.

The Russians released two American military policemen and a civilian who had wandered into their zone.

British Accuse Reds

The British accused the Russians of three violations of flight rules in their corridor to the beleagured city. They refused a Russian offer to supply electricity to a plant in the British zone which is working mostly on Russian orders.

The air lift carted in about 2,200 tons of food and supplies yesterday. Coal, however, remains the crux of the problem with winter approaching. The U. S. started flying 5,000 refugees, mostly Polish Jews, from Berlin to western Germany.

The Russian military newspaper said reports that Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky would be recalled were "nonsensical." Rumors have persisted that Sokolovsky was in serious trouble with the Kremlin. Western military headquarters have heard reports of a purge in the Soviet military administration.

No One Sided Rules

Sokolovsky was quoted in one report as saying the Russian blockade would be lifted of the western powers stopped insisting that Russians must have special passes for travel in the western zones. Maj. Gen. George P. Hays, U. S. military governor in Berlin, said the U. S. has placed no one-sided restrictions on Soviet travel.

Diplomatic authorities in Washington said reports indicate Russia is increasing pressure on her satellites to place power in hands of more ruthless communists. President Klement Gottwald of Czechoslovakia and Deputy Premier Matyas Rakosi, the real Hungarian chief of state, were two believed marked by the Kremlin for a purge as too moderate and too nationalistic.

Premier Marshal Tito, who said the Russian-ruled cominform tried to start civil war in Yugoslavia to oust him, appeared to have solid backing of his country's communists. To Cominform charges that Yugoslavia was courting the west, one of Tito's aides said the Yugoslav press has carried a forceful campaign against "American imperialism as the chief factor of enslavement and of war mongering."

Another Former Capone Henchman Arrested for Parole Violation

Chicago, July 23—(AP)—Charles "Cherry Nose" Gioe, one of four former Capone henchmen whose paroles from federal prison have been under congressional fire, was seized today by federal agents.

A high federal official who declined use of his name said Gioe was arrested on a parole violation warrant and started with U. S. marshals immediately for the federal penitentiary in Atlanta, Ga.

This source said also that U. S. officers went to Berrien Springs, Mich., today seeking another of the four parolees, Louis Campagna, who has a farm there. Officers did not find Campagna at his Michigan farm, and went to Fowler, Ind., where Campagna has another farm.

No mention was made of Philip D'Andrea, a third member of the group whose paroles were denounced by the house expenditures committee. D'Andrea was reported ill at his home near here.

Paul "The Waiter" de Lucia, the other parolee, was arrested June 16 on a parole violation warrant obtained by the U. S. Board of Paroles which charged parole violation.

De Lucia is at liberty under $10,000 bonds pending a hearing in federal court here.

The four men were released from prison last Aug. 11 after serving three and one half years of 10-year sentences. They were convicted in a New York federal court in 1944 of violating the anti racketeering act by extorting money from leaders of the motion picture industry.

The congressional committee which conducted a lengthy investigation of the four paroles recommended that they be revoked and said that they were obtained by "fraudulent concealment of facts."

Two Weeks Reign of Terror in Ohio is Finished in Battle

One of Bandits Killed; Two Police Officers Wounded This Morn

Van Wert, O., July 23—(AP)—Two youthful ex-convicts reached the end of a 14-day seven-slaying crime career today in a gun battle with police at a road block, that he is a communist.

One of the pair, whose bloody trail had terrorized Ohio for two weeks, was dead shot between the eyes and the other captured.

Two police officers were wounded during the wild party of rifle, pistol and submachinegun shots which ended the greatest manhunt Ohio has ever witnessed.

John C. West, 21-year-old former spectacled parolee of the Mansfield reformatory, formerly of Parkersburg, Va., and described as the "gun happy" member of the duo, was shot to death.

His partner, 22-year-old Robert M. Daniels of Columbus, another ex-convict, put up his hands and surrendered without firing a shot, although police said he had a rifle and three revolvers beside him.

Earlier police reports said Daniels had confessed the seven murders which had kept the midwest in a two-week turmoil, but Daniels later was quoted as saying he had "heard the shots, but West did the shooting."

Road Blocks Pay Off

The highway patrol, local police, FBI and other officials had set up road blocks all over the northern half of the state after two more killings early today, and the road blocks paid off.

Van Wert county and city officials were stationed at a road block six miles northeast of here, where routes 224 and 627 meet.

A driveaway truck, with four automobiles aboard, approached. The officers stopped it for a routine check.

The driver of the truck came out of the cab, an Army rifle blazing. Sgt. L. D. Conn 42, Van Wert policeman, went down with a bullet in his chest. Frank A. Griemoth, 55, county game protector, also fell with a bullet in his breast, the slug lodging in his arm.

Both officers, with Sheriff Roy Shaffer, blazed away with their guns despite the wounds, and Sergeant Conn finally hit the driver between the eyes with a machine gun bullet. The driver was identified as West.

Daniels Surrenders

As the firing ceased a man crawled from one of the four trucks on the driveaway, his hands in the air. He said he was Daniels, and the highway patrol said he admitted he and West had committed the seven killings for which they had been sought over 20 states the last two weeks.

Sergeant Conn's condition was reported as critical at Van Wert hospital.

No trace of the regular driver of the driveaway truck had been found, opening the possibility that he, too, may have been a victim of the killers in the search for transportation with which to evade capture in the ever-closing net which authorities had thrown around the up-state sector.

The pair of gunmen hit the end of their trail only a few hours

Two Paraplegics Held for Shooting

Memphis, Tenn., July 23—(AP)—Two semi-paralyzed Texas veterans were held in $5,000 bond each today on federal charges of intent to murder in connection with the shooting of a third paraplegic.

The two—28-year-old Wallace Rice of Amarillo and 20-year-old Dow Duckworth of Gainesville—were arraigned before U. S. commissioner Leslie Nicholson yesterday and their preliminary hearing set for Wednesday.

Dr. Clyde Beck, Kennedy Veterans hospital manager, said Rice shot Richard Hicks, 31, of Camalou, Mo., in the left thigh July 15. The shooting occurred, he said, after the two men rolled their wheelchairs to the sunporch and fought until both fell to the floor.

Rice obtained the pistol from Duckworth shortly after the fight, the doctor said. He said Rice tried to shoot Hicks as he lay sleeping, but the gun jammed. Later, he added, Duckworth cleared the pistol for Rice, who then shot Hicks in the leg.

At the arraignment, Duckworth said, "I had nothing to do with the shooting. I did unjam the gun, but it was through fear I did that."

Israeli Navy Makes Its Bow

Tiny, but confident, the Israeli navy—consisting of two corvettes—is standing by for action in Haifa harbor. Two hundred snappy, white-clad sailors stand at ease while Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion addresses them. (Photo by NEA-Acme staff correspondent David S. Boyer.)

Truman Puzzled on Prices, Living Costs: Is Rationing Must?

Where To Start, When To Stop Question Still Unanswered

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, July 23 (AP)—President Truman's No. 1 problem, when he faces the special session of Congress next week, is this:

How to control prices and living costs? He wants power to do that. But what kind of control can he ask of Congress?

Last November, when prices weren't as high as they are now, he asked congress for stand-by price control power.

Which means power to control use if, and when, he thought prices finally had climbed too high. Congress didn't give him the power.

Now, it seems, he thinks the time has passed for stand-by power and that prices need to be controlled right now.

At least, that's what he said last month in a speech at Los Angeles.

But the question, the terrific question, is: How can prices be controlled now? He could ask for either of these things:

1. Price control on just about everything, as in wartime.

2. Or, price control on a selected list of key items in American living like meat, dairy products, poultry, coal, steel.

But if the government attempts to control prices in all, or only certain fields, then some agency will be needed to see that price controls work.

This might mean a special new agency—like the wartime OPA—or some agency set up specially within an existing government department, such as the Commerce or Agriculture departments.

That would be a problem all by itself and probably would take months.

But right here the problem gets deeper and very tough for Mr. Truman:

Suppose, say, he asks for price control on meat. Would that mean trying to roll back the price of meat to some figure where it was months ago?

Probably not. It might mean trying to freeze the price of meat at the point it had reached when—and if—Congress passed such a price control law.

That's not all.

Could the government attempt to control the price of meat without going all the way back down the line to control the price of the things that help boost meat prices?

For example: How could the government control meat prices—and still be fair to meat growers and packers unless it also controlled the price of the feed cattle eat?

If feed prices went up but meat prices were frozen, the meat industry would be caught in an unfair squeeze. That would be one-sided price control.

Suppose Mr. Truman asked for price control only on such things as meat, poultry, dairy products, coal and steel.

He could hardly ask for price control on these unless he also asked for control over the wages of people working in those fields. But if that happened, the leaders of labor unions in those fields would be sure of protest by saying:

"This is unfair. The government controls wages in just these few fields. But workers in all other fields can go ahead and get pay raises. They'll be free to make money while we're stuck."

Labor leaders generally are opposed to any wage controls anyway.

Yet, how can the price of something like meat or steel or coal be controlled and kept in line by the government if the meat packers and steel workers and miners are free to fight for wage increases?

Something would have to crack if, for instance, steel workers got a raise while steel prices were held under tight government control.

A raise for the workers would increase the cost of producing steel. Then unless the government permitted steel prices to rise, the steel producers could complain they were getting an unfair deal.

And yet how can the government attempt to control prices and wages in a few industries without controlling prices and wages in the whole country?

But there is something on top of all this. It's rationing.

Suppose meat prices were controlled but people still were able to go out and buy up meat to suit themselves. That kind of competition among consumers is a pressure that helps boost prices.

To take away such pressure, the logical thing for the government to do would be to ration meat and whatever else it sought to control in the way of prices.

When is Communist Not a Communist? Its Hard to Determine

Query Also Arises About Activities of U. N.'s Pinkish Delegates

By DeWITT MacKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The question before the house is this: When is a Red not a Red, or do Communists who are bent on mischief always give warning by displaying the Red danger signal?

It's an ironic circumstance though perhaps not strange—that while 12 top leaders of the U.S. Communist party were being indicted on charges of advocating the overthrow of the Washington government by force there should also arise the pressing query of whether foreign Communist delegations in the United Nations are a threat to American security. There is a divergence of testimony regarding the Bolshevists attached to the peace of organization.

Last week two State department officials testified before a Senate judiciary subcommittee that hundreds of foreign agents may be operating subversively in the United States on U.N. credentials. The officials were Robert T. Alexander, assistant chief of the State department visa division, and William Harlow, chief of the department's diplomatic visa section.

Yesterday Secretary of State Marshall in effect disavowed that testimony. He told a press conference that he didn't know of any case in which a foreigner coming to America for the U.N. said in any way threatened American security. He said while he hadn't read the record he was under the impression that the testimony of Alexander and Harlow was contrary to his own information.

All this is highly interesting, though rather confusing, in view of the widespread belief among observers that wherever a Communist pitches his tent he immediately starts subversive activities for Moscow. There is no indication whether the Senate subcommittee considered the activities of employes in the numerous diplomatic and consular headquarters maintained by Russia and her satellites in this country. Apropos of this, one is reminded of the great Communist spy ring which was directed from the Soviet embassy in Ottawa and was uncovered two years ago. The operations of this ring were far-flung and included the United States.

As regards the Communist leaders indicted in the United States, they deny that the party is engaged in subversive activities or that it takes orders from Moscow. That being so it would make the American Communist party unique, since it is common knowledge that all other Red parties are under the direction of the Cominform which gets its instructions from Moscow.

The whole history of communism since the Bolshevist revolution of 1917 is one of efforts to overthrow foreign governments. It was because of subversive propaganda from Moscow that Russia wasn't recognized by the American government until 1933. And there was a fierce diplomatic conflict between Britain and the Soviet government over subversive Red activities in England.

But why the employment of force to establish a Soviet regime? Why not do it through the ballot box? The answer is that Bolshevism calls for bloodshed and terrorism in order to impress the proletariat with the nature of the change. As the Encyclopedia Britannica puts it, "modern communism regards revolution as necessary and a period of dictatorship of the proletariat based on open terror as the only means of creating the socialist economic and social system."

The law under which the American Communist leaders have been indicted was passed in 1940. Among other things it makes it unlawful for any person "to knowingly or wilfully advocate, abet, advise, or teach the duty, necessity, desirability, or propriety of overthrowing or destroying any government in the United States by force . . ."

Thus it is a violation of the law for any person to advocate the establishment of a government after the manner we have seen employed in Czechoslovakia and in other helpless countries which Moscow has been taking over by strong-arm methods. The Moscow brand of communism has no more legal rights in the United States than did Al Caponism.

Talk to All Demos on Campaign Plan: Truman

Washington, July 22—(AP)—President Truman said today that he will talk with Democratic leaders of all opinions in advance of the presidential campaign.

He told a news conference that he is ready to talk with whatever groups Senator J. Howard McGrath, Democratic national chairman, brings to the White House.

McGrath said after a conference at the White House yesterday that representatives of divergent views will be included in the groups he planned to bring in.

Truman flatly declined at his news conference to discuss the contents of the special message he will deliver personally before the extra session of Congress next Tuesday.

Gen. Clay Reports To House Members on Berlin Crisis

Military Commander Confers With Members of Foreign Committee

Washington, July 23 (AP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay told house members today that American forces in Germany can and will carry out this government's intention to remain in Berlin.

Clay, United States military governor in Germany, left a 30-minute closed session with some foreign affairs committee members and headed toward the White House where he had another engagement with President Truman in connection with discussions of the Soviet blockade of Berlin.

Committee Chairman Eaton (R-NJ) and Army Secretary Kenneth Royall issued the following joint statement concerning Clay's appearance before the house group:

"Gen. Clay presented to the committee the general conditions in Berlin and the action of the American troops and personnel in Berlin.

Gen. Clay reiterated the determination and the ability of American forces to carry out our stated governmental policy in remaining in Berlin, and supplying those in the American sector.

Chairman Eaton joined the Secretary of the Army in complimenting Gen. Clay upon the splendid manner in which he and his troops and civilian personnel are carrying out their mission in Berlin and in Germany as a whole."

'Simply "Farewell Call"'

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross told newsmen he thought Clay was simply coming to the White House "for a farewell call before returning to Berlin."

Royall and Army Undersecretary William H. Draper went with Clay to the White House.

After seeing the president Clay told reporters:

"It was just a brief call to pay my respects before returning to Germany." He plans to start his trip back tonight.

Clay gave Truman and his top advisers a report on the German situation yesterday.

Rep. Dirksen (R-Ill), a house appropriations committee member, and Rep. Teague (D-Tex), who commanded an infantry regiment in Europe during the war, sat in on the closed committee session.

Before he takes off, the occupation commander will have a chance to give the American people some of the views he reported to government officials. The army department announced that Clay would hold a news conference at noon (CST).

Paris, Champaign on Watch Against Polio

Paris, Ill., July 23—(AP)—An 18-year-old girl of nearby Horace is Edgar county's first polio victim this year. She is Cordelia Tucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Tucker. She was taken to a Decatur hospital yesterday.

Champaign, Ill., July 23—(AP)—The swimming pool of the Champaign country club was closed yesterday as a precaution against the spread of polio. The club ordered the pool closed when it learned that a polio victim had been swimming there a few days before he became ill. The youth, Robert Clegg II, is the second victim of the disease in the county this year.

More than 100 kinds of birds have become extinct during the last two centuries.

Coming Home

Word was received today that the body of Pfc. Wilbur L. Schick (above) will be returned to Dixon Monday evening.

Wilbur L. Schick was born at Joliet, Ill., July 5, 1917. He moved with his family to this community in early life and lived here until he entered the service of his country on June 24, 1941.

Upon entering the service he served a year in the United States training and was sent to the South Pacific war area. He participated in many of the battles in the islands of the South Pacific. Wilbur was killed in action July 18, 1945 in New Guinea at the age of 27 years, 15 days.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Percy L. Schick of Route 1, Dixon, a brother, Harold R. at home, two sisters, Mrs. Albert Howard of Franklin Grove and Mrs. Stanley Bloomquist of Dixon. Also many relatives in this and surrounding communities.

The body will be taken to the Randall funeral home Monday evening and will be in state in the Memorial chapel. Friends may call at the funeral home until the hour of the service.

Memorial services will be held at the funeral home Wednesday, at 2:00 p.m. with the Rev. Clifton Stauffer of the Brethren church officiating.

The service organizations will have charge of the military services at the grave. Interment will be in Chapel Hill Memorial park.

Astor Rejects Bid for Estate; Threaten Suit

Middletown, R. I., July 23—(AP)—A retired chain drugstore operator who said his $70,000 auction bid for the Newport estate of John Jacob Astor III has been rejected, planned today to sue for possession of the 14-room villa.

James O'Donnell said he will sue Astor "for specific performance of contract." He made the statement last night after he received a telegram from H. Howard Babcock of Astor's New York law firm saying that Astor had decided to cancel the sale.

Under the terms of the auction announced at the sale last Saturday, Astor reserved the right to cancel any accepted bid within five days.

Astor could not be reached for comment at Cnetwode, his estate, immediately.

Finnish Premier Quits; Awaits New Appointment

Helsinki, Finland, July 23—(AP)—Premier Mauno Pekkala, who has headed Finland's leftist government since March 26, 1946, resigned last night. He gave no reason for his resignation.

President Juho Paasikivi was expected to ask a Social Democrat, possibly former Speaker of Parliament K. A. Fagerholm to form a new cabinet. Pekkala is a member of the Socialist Union party which is allied with the Communists.

Many thousands of tons of jade are estimated to be deposited in Wyoming, California and Alaska.

Belief Expressed UN Should Clean Out Communists

Washington, July 23—(AP)—Senator Hatch (D-N.M.) said today the only practical way this country can be protected against subversive activity by United Nations employes is for the organization itself to guarantee their conduct.

Hatch made the comment to reporters as a senate subcommittee which has been studying the problem called two new witnesses, their identies kept momentarily secret.

The judiciary group staff has heard testimony that at least several hundred persons admitted to this country as officials or employes of U.N. delegations are known or suspected subversives and that some of them have been carrying on propaganda activities under a U.N. cloak.

Hatch said the U.N. cannot be maintained if the representatives of any member nation are prohibited from entering this country, and he said representatives from Russia and her satellites are bound to be communists.

Act Subject to Abuse

Asserting that the international organizations immunities act is, like any other act, subject to abuse and violation, Hatch proposed that the U.N. itself "should accept the responsibility" for its officials and employes.

Robert C. Alexander, assistant chief of the state department's visa section, has suggested a similar remedy. Alexander said it was particularly desirable that the organization see to it that persons whose connection with U.N. is terminated leave the country.

He reiterated his belief that many of the persons coming in by way of the U.N. route constitute potential dangers to the United States.

Alexander said he knows of no case in which this country sought the departure of any accredited U.N. official or employe. To do so, he said, would make it necessary to "spread upon the record" all the information about the case which this country possessed.

Harpo says their changed attitude has something to do with a letter from their uncle, veteran actor Al Shean. He signed it "82 and still looking forward to next week".

Shortage of Engineers Threatens Road Work

Chicago, July 23—(AP)—A national highway executive said today there is a serious shortage of civil engineers which threatens to hamper badly needed highway construction.

W. W. Polk, vice president of the American Association of State Highway Officials, said the estimated shortage of professional and sub-professional engineers is 10,000.

The shortage probably will become more acute, Polk said in an address prepared for the 45th American Road Builders' association convention.

Polk, who is chief highway engineer for the state of Illinois, told the builders:

"Civil engineering courses in our schools and colleges are not attracting young men and the men who are taking civil engineering courses are not interested in going into highway work."

Three Injured in Car Crash Near Elizabeth

Freeport, Ill., July 23—(AP)—Two men and a woman were injured yesterday in a head-on automobile collision near Elizabeth, Ill.

The woman, Mrs. Thomas Curley, 42, of Gary, Ind., suffered a broken leg, cuts on the scalp and hands and shock. Her condition was described at St. Francis hospital here as serious.

Mrs. Curley's husband, a sergeant of detectives in Gary, suffered minor injuries.

Their car collided with one driven by Harold Deacon, Mobile, Ill. Deacon was taken to a hospital in Savanna for treatment of undetermined injuries.

Curley said that Deacon's car, traveling eastward on state route 20, appeared to have run out of control after striking a muddy spot in the highway. The Curleys were traveling west.

Sister Kenny to Aid of Centralia Clinic on Polio

Centralia, Ill., July 23—(AP)—Miss Elizabeth Kenny intervened today to prevent closure of a Centralia poliomyelitis clinic, named for her and using a treatment developed by the former Australian war nurse.

A clinic supporter, Albert Braden, said Miss Kenny sent him a telegram from Detroit which said in part:

"The Sister Kenny Clinic will be continued and no patient will be refused admittance because of race, creed, color or financial status."

Miss Kenny dedicated "the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Clinic for the Central Midwest" on Aug. 24, 1947, as the first of its kind in the nation. Kenny Foundation officials said then others would be set up. The clinic here accepts patients from "anywhere in the United States."

Closure reports circulated as Director Herbert Kobes of the state division of services for crippled children said the clinic lacked round-the-clock pediatric and orthopedic services and therefore the division has not referred to it any polio victims. It now has 27 patients, none of whom was referred by the division.

WHAT "Stepping Down" MEANS TO YOU

How the New Hudson, America's most streamlined car with the low silhouette, brings you roominess and comfort never before obtainable in an automobile.

You've seen them flashing by in all their sparkling color—those trim, gorgeous New Hudsons with the low, streamlined silhouette.

But have you really examined one of these amazing cars? They are the big news in the automobile world today!

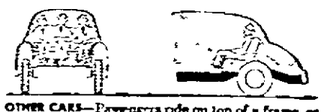
Hudson, always known for great forward steps in the development of the automobile, and for efficient use of motive power, is again way out ahead with a motor car that hits a new high in efficient use of space—that makes a greater percentage of its total space actually available for your use and comfort.

When you take a close look, you'll find that Hudson, through the use of a new, exclusive "step-down" zone, reclaims so much usually wasted space that this sensationally efficient car gives you more useful interior room than you've ever before experienced in an automobile.

This new kind of motor car has a sturdy foundation structure surrounding the passenger compartment, which permits the floor to be recessed down within the base frame so that you step down when entering. This makes space between frame members, which is usually wasted, available for use inside the car.

Seats can thus be lowered to harmonize with the new lower top, and by stepping down into Hudson, which is only five feet from ground to top, you get more head room than in any other mass-produced car built today!

And how about seating room? Hudson's new design reclaims space formerly taken up by wheel housings and protruding fenders. This is accomplished by placing rear seats ahead of the rear wheels, in a zone unrestricted by wheel housings. As a result, rear seats are 15 inches wider in this car that is only little more than four inches wider over-all. Both rear and front seats extend the full width of the body, giving Hudson the roomiest seats in any American-made car. Hudson's use of the "step-down" zone and unique seating arrangements are illustrated in the sketches that follow.



OTHER CARS—Passengers ride on top of a frame, as shown above, and (in the rear seat) between rear wheel housings, which occupy space that should be a part of seating room. Riding on top of a frame means that essential head room must be reduced if the roof is lowered for streamlining.

NEW HUDSON—Your ride cradled down within Hudson's base frame, as shown above, and also ahead of the rear wheels. Seats can therefore extend full width of the car. Due to the use of the "step-down" zone, roof is lowered for streamlining, yet ample head room is provided.

The New Hudson even reclaims the unused space in doors by providing gorgeously tailored, recessed compartments where interior door handles, window cranks, ash receivers and generous arm rests are placed out of the way to allow increased elbow room for passengers.

This development of Hudson's exclusive, all-steel Monobilt body-and-frame* with its "step-down" zone required years of engineering work, the perfection of new production techniques and millions of dollars in highly specialized new plant investment. This may be why Hudson, and Hudson alone, offers this important advance today!

"Stepping down" is so important to motor-car beauty, riding qualities and safety—as well as roominess and comfort—that the nearest Hudson dealer has a booklet—yours without obligation—fully explaining this design principle. Hudson Motor Car Company, Detroit 14.

Attorney Unable To Finish Brief in New Party Confab

Boyle Finds All Shades Of Views Active in Wallace Party

By HAL BOYLE

Philadelphia — (AP) — The white-haired old corporation attorney, mad at both the Republicans and the Democrats, had come to hit the sawdust trail for Henry Wallace.

Elegant in a white shadkskin suit and blue tie, 75 year old Arthur Dun of New York City looked a little out of place as he waited to appear before the last public hearing of the New Party's platform committee.

There were more than a score there to testify for causes old and new. Among them were a Negro nurse, a white-collar union official, a farmer, an Illinois patent attorney, a Jewish member of Palestine's extremist Stern group, an Irish seaman, writer Muriel Draper and Rep. Vito Marcantonio, who wanted a plank put in the platform calling for Puerto Rican independence.

They spoke at such length that Mrs. Elinor Gimbel, acting as platform secretary, admitted:

"If we keep on like this we'll be here until tomorrow. From now on we'll have to limit each speaker to five minutes."

The first victim of the ruling was the elderly corporation lawyer.

"I have been voting for 54 years," Dun began. "I first voted back in 1894 when I was an undergraduate at Princeton. I always voted Republican until 1932. I guess I just didn't know any better."

The small audience of 75 in the ballroom of Convention hall whooped lustily. Corporation lawyers are rare here.

"My father was a member of the slave-holding aristocracy of Virginia," Dun continued. "But my hobby now is fighting the poll tax."

The spectators cheered again and the corporation attorney bowed graciously.

He then began reading the text of his statement. "I called upon Congress to enforce the 2nd section of the 14th amendment, which requires that if a state abridges the right to vote in any way, the number of representatives in Congress from such must be reduced proportionately.

"Because of failure of Congress to enforce this provision," Dun said, "the seven poll tax states in the south have 69 members in the House of Representatives whereas they are entitled to but 28."

Dun said he was sure that the southern states would rather remove the poll tax or other limitations on voting rather than have their membership in congress reduced.

"Furthermore," he read on and when Mrs. Gimbel interrupted him.

"Time! Your time is up."

"But this is the most important thing in the country today," protested the old attorney. "If this plan is carried out, no civil rights legislation will be required."

"I'm sorry," murmured Mrs. Gimbel.

"I'm sorry too," said Dun sadly. He folded his manuscript and walked back to his seat.

Later he said:

"I didn't ask to appear before the committee. They asked me. But I do wish they had let me finish. It was so important."

Then he brightened.

"You know after I gave up on Hoover I voted for Franklin D. Roosevelt. But now I am for Henry Wallace. I met him when he was secretary of agriculture.

"I gave him a book of mine and he gave me a book of his. He has a fine mind. He certainly does understand economics."

Then Dun leaned forward to listen to the next speaker. He was a little man in shirt-sleeves demanding that the third party take a firm stand against liquor advertising.

Men Join Union, Plant Shut Down

Matenzo Ill., July 23 (AP) — Employes of the 75 year old Matenzo foundry said yesterday they had been discharged and the plant closed because of their decision to join a union.

Herman Dipirro, an employe, said that 11 of 13 workers had joined the CIO United Automobile Workers union and after plans to open contract negotiations with the owner, W. R. Miles, on July 12.

Dipirro said the plant has been idle since that date and that Miles had made a statement saying "I have worked long enough and am tired of working. I am closing this place and going out of business. Your checks are being prepared for you and will be ready in a few minutes."

The decision of the workers to join the union, Dipirro said, followed a discharge of a foreman who had introduced some changes in production methods. After the foreman's discharge, he added, earnings of the workers dropped from about $75 a week to $40.

"We talked it over among ourselves," Dipirro said, "and decided the UAW CIO might be able to step in and straighten things out for us."

Miles, about 60, declined to elaborate on his statement about closing the plant.

In addition to his work as acting commissioner Grigsby will continue to serve as director of the division of auxiliary services in the office of education.

U. S. Denies Red Tale of Travel Restrictions

Berlin, July 23 (AP)—Maj. Gen. George P. Hays, deputy U. S. military governor, said today the American military government has placed no one sided restrictions on Soviet travel in the American zone of Germany.

Hays was discussing a report quoting Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky as saying the Russian blockade of Berlin would be lifted if the western powers stopped insisting that Russians must have special passes for travel in the western zones. The Russians always have required special Soviet passes for travel into the Soviet zone.

St. Louis Mayor To Ask FTC for Probe of Dairies

St. Louis, July 23—(AP)—Mayor Aloys P. Kaufmann, in a letter to the city health commissioner, says he intends to ask the Federal Trade commission to investigate "alleged interlocking interests and activities of certain elements in the dairy industry."

The city's two principal dairies recently were fined $5,000 each by a U. S. district court jury on charges of conspiracy to fix prices. Milk prices in St. Louis reportedly are the highest in the nation. Current prices are 25 cents a quart for homogenized milk.

The mayor's letter yesterday included recommendations and plans based on a recent report of the citizens' milk investigating committee.

He asked for a slight relaxation in the health commissioner's enforcement of the city's pure milk ordinance as it applies to physical facilities of dairy farms in the St. Louis milkshed.

The investigation by the FTC, a government agency which checks on fairness of trade practices and truthfulness of advertising, was recommended by the committee.

The committee suggested an investigation of the city's largest dairy, Pevely, a cooperative, a large city dairy and their parent organizations. These are the Safeway Milk Products, the St. Louis Dairy company and its parent firm, the National Dairy Products corporation, and the Illinois Agricultural association which owns 51 per cent of Safeway's stock.

Relaxation of the milk ordinance would set up a point scoring system allowing dairy farmers who violated sanitation rules to stay on the market if they gradually added more physical equipment to meet requirements of the ordinance.

A Thought for Today

And they shall scourage him, and put him to death: and the third day he shall rise again.—Luke 18:33.

The cross was two pieces of dead wood; and a helpless, unresisting Man was nailed to it, yet it was mightier than the world and triumphed, and will ever triumph over it.—Hare.

Behind the Eight Ball

A basic tenet of law is that a man is innocent until proven guilty. Unfortunately, public opinion often condemns without justification and the accused party must prove himself innocent. Such has been the position of the steel industry. Steel prices lag far behind most commodities, but steel has had an uphill job explaining its problems to the public. Newsweek, describing the situation, says

"Today's big earnings of U. S Steel are possible only because its old plants have been written off to a nominal value of $20 a ton of annual capacity. To replace that capacity today would cost close to $300 a ton.

"The rest of the industry is in similar straits. On Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation books the investment in steel-producing facilities is valued at $6,934 an employe. But Admiral Ben Moreell, J & L president, believes that to replace them at today's prices would cost between $30,000 and $40,000 a worker.

"The steel companies are behind a bigger eight ball than even many steel executives have fully appreciated. As long as present steel mills, ore, coal and limestone properties hold out, they will continue to report comfortable profits. But when these have to be replaced, steel prices must jump considerably or the industry will find itself deep in the red".

Identical Interests

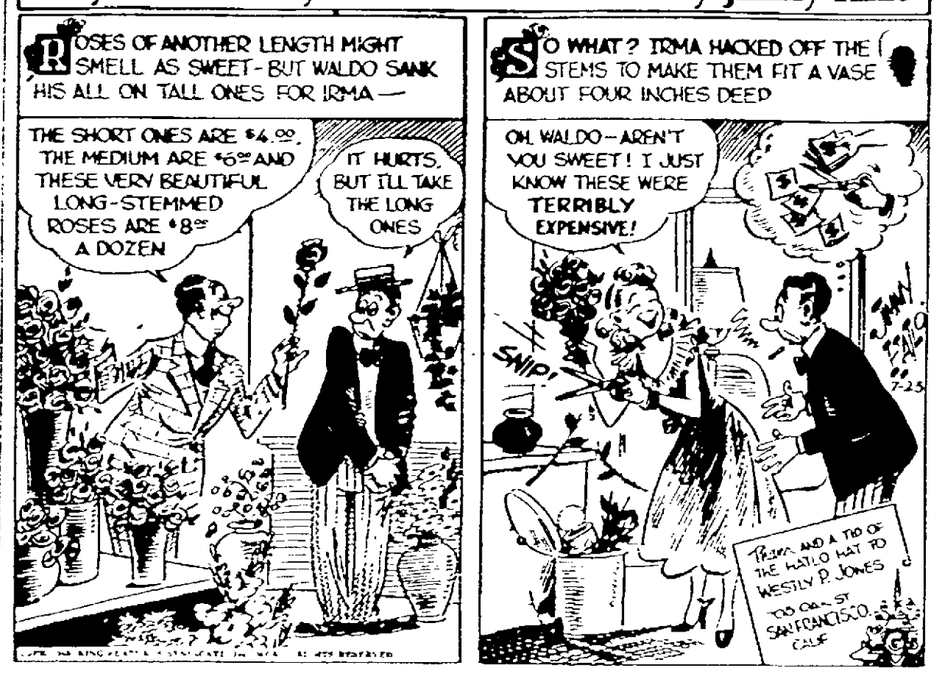
The soft coal industry should invest at least $500,000,000 during the next three years on new and better machinery and processing facilities. That estimate has been made by Howard J. Carswell, of the Bituminous Coal Institute, who added "The problem is a hard one, but it also provides a great opportunity because the mechanized efficiency, already notable, will mean better and more skilled jobs for miners at continuing high wages along with better services to customers".

The difficulties the coal industry faces are easily enough shown. A $500,000,000 outlay for improvements would amount to twice the profits of the entire industry, after taxes, for the past three years. The industry's depreciation reserves, accumulated during the war at a rate permitted by the government, are inadequate to cover cost of replacements.

The solution to the problem, Mr. Carswell says, lies in "continued high production and lowering expense in getting coal out of the ground". That is the only way the industry can keep up with the times, maintain its competitive position with other fuels, and meet its extremely high wage and material costs. Thousands of miners are earning up to $800 a month. The new contract has given them still more benefits. Only a progressive, profitable industry can carry that kind of a load.

Past mechanization of coal mining has paid off handsomely in higher production. Future mechanization should substantially better that record. Here is a case where the operators and the miners, regardless of other differences have an identical interest. The future of both parties requires the highest attainable degree of efficiency in every phase of coal mining.

They'll Do It Every Time — By Jimmy Hatlo



As Pegler Sees It

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

(Copyright, 1948, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

New York.—The grand jury in Waterloo, Ia., has indicted on a charge of manslaughter Fred Lee Roberts, a Negro citizen, who fired a shot when he was attacked by a mob of lynchers during a union riot at the plant of the Rath Packing company last June.

In Waterloo, as in several cities in Minnesota, the police flinched and the rioters took control. Only in Kansas City, Kan., in this particular chain of strikes, were the police competent and true to their vows. There the cops drove the goons back into their headquarters and waded in after them. The cops then beat up the goons and the riot stopped dead.

Fred Lee Roberts, of Waterloo, will be acquitted of manslaughter because that charge can be sustained only if he wantonly used more force than he need have to defend himself when the police abandoned him to the mob.

The jury will agree that a man attacked by a mob whose members begin by "rocking" his automobile cannot be expected to exercise calm legal judgment.

The practice of "rocking" cars began at the big automobile plants in Michigan in riots directed by the United Auto Workers under the political patronage of Franklin D. Roosevelt. Thousands of feet of moving pictures show that this was done with the precision of a battle operation by a military combat team and that the goons wore uniform caps like those of Mussolini's black shirts.

And the appalling fact survives that Frank Murphy, then governor, now on the Supreme court, called out the National Guard to suppress law-abiding citizens who were trying to resist the rioters.

Any citizen attacked by a mob is, by the definition of all the New Deal "anti-lynching" bills, a victim of lynching. However, these bills all contain a uniform provision exempting lynchings committed by union rioters.

Actually even where legitimate "labor" questions do exist, the riot invariably is deliberately caused by the unions. And as all union bosses and New Dealers know, many riots have been caused by Communists who first created the pretext of "labor" questions.

Under the Truman anti-lynching bills, a "labor" riot prompted by Communist insurrectors might cost a thousand lives and lay waste a city and yet remain beneath the official interest of the Department of Justice. On the other hand, a petty disturbance in a sleepy southern watermelon town in which some suspect was beaten up by three or more assailants while the constable snoozed in the barber's chair would be "lynching" within the meaning of Truman's civil rights program.

Rioting is the gravest kind of breach of the peace short of treason known to British law. The encyclopedia says it "consists in a tumultuous disturbance of the peace by an assemblage of three or more persons who execute that enterprise in a violent and turbulent manner to the terror of the people."

The degradation and corruption of government under Roosevelt and now under Truman are not understood by citizens who slowly came to think of riots as trivial disorders. Riot is a challenge to the authority, integrity and power of government by an internal enemy.

Roosevelt expressed his own corrupt attitude when he told me that the riots at the motor plants in Michigan had been merely "multiple disorderly conduct, multiple assault and multiple malicious mischief." That is all a riot is.

Within the last 10 days we have had more instances of "tumultuous disturbances by three or more persons who execute that enterprise to the terror of the people."

In Dayton, O., several young women law-abiding Americans, were laid low by poison gas sprayed by union rioters. That was lynching and the victims, as noted, were not British morons accused of rape but were young women going to their work. Now that the police have let them down these and other young women in Dayton are justified in carrying pistols. When the police fail to protect the citizen, the citizen must protect himself. The surest way is to carry a gun and shoot to kill, not to make a noise as Fred Lee Roberts did in Waterloo, Ia. They won't rock his car again.

About the time the young women were gassed in Dayton mobs broke out in South Haven, Mich., and Wheeling, W. Va., and disgraceful pictures showed uniformed cops delicately tussling with goons who were "rocking" cars and smashing windshields. All cops who can be identified in these cases should be canned if not prosecuted. They had guns in view in the pictures and they should have fired. That is why they are given pistols.

The riot act is a legal proclamation intended to put down tumult by warning all members of a mob to disperse. Those who fail to disperse may be prosecuted and if they be shot in any ensuing trouble, the fault is all theirs. We use the riot act too sparingly.

The Republican platform condemns all mob violence, but actually the north, not the south, needs the protection and reform. More than 99 per cent of the mob action of the last 20 years has been rioting by Roosevelt's unions in the big northern centers. That is why the Truman anti-lynching bills exempt union riots.

An army sergeant demonstrated the power of unflinching authority at Perth Amboy, N. J., the same day the cops in Dayton, South Haven and Wheeling dogged it in fear of a few goons. The sergeant had a detail on trucks delivering lifeboats to a boat-works for overhaul. There was a picket line across the gate.

"I have my orders to move these boats and I am prepared to carry out my orders," the sergeant said. "The first man to touch them or interfere with my orders will be shot."

The goons fell away and the boats rolled in.

Deaths

DAVID WARK GRIFFITH

Hollywood, July 23—(AP)—David Wark Griffith, 73, pioneer movie and star-maker, died today.

Best known for his discovery of Mary Pickford and his famous "The Birth of a Nation", Griffith had been inactive in pictures for many years, but the legend of his early days never died.

He was stricken ill Wednesday night in his hotel suite and taken to the hospital yesterday, suffering from a cerebral hemorrhage. He lost consciousness, and succumbed at 9:24 a. m. (Central Standard Time) in an oxygen tent.

In the early days of motion pictures, Griffith pioneered in lavish productions, innovations in photography and tailored scenarios to fit idealistic themes. His "Birth of a Nation" is still generally regarded as one of the greatest movies.

In recent years he lived in retirement. While biographies give his age as 68 court actions and events during his life indicate he was 73 years old.

"Master Cell" Is Just Cement, Police Believe

Middleboro, Mass., July 23—(AP)—Farmer John Brown's discovery—a "master cell" which he claims makes plants grow faster and aids in curing diseased chickens and cattle—is nothing more than cement as far as Massachusetts state police can determine.

State Chemist Joseph T. Walker examined four of Brown's cement matrices — in which the farmer claims to have encased his discovery—and said he was unable to detect in them any property not possessed by an ordinary concrete block.

But in Washington, the food and drug administration said it is going ahead with tests of the "cells" at its Beltsville, Md., laboratories. Brown's material will be tried against a chicken disease, possibly coccidiosis.

Breaks Leg Leaving Hospital in Freeport

Freeport, Ill., July 23—(AP)—Donald Reeder, 18, an infantile paralysis patient, walked out of a hospital here today. Five minutes later he was carried back in with a broken leg.

He was discharged from the hospital as a full-time patient three weeks ago but had been taking additional treatment at intervals.

THE STORY: Playboy Marcus Sterling has stolen his wife's diamond necklace and handed it over as security on a $10,000 gambling debt to racketeer Harry Bindle. To cover the theft, perpetrated while his wife slept, Sterling makes it appear a professional burglary. He then goes to Edgecraft Country Club to spend the night and establish an alibi. Along with the necklace, he has also taken a sealed packet from his wife's safe. This, Marcus discovers later, is $10,000 in cash which Miriam had withdrawn from the bank to give him. Next morning, Police Lt. Talent arrives at the Sterling household. Sgt. Gable shows him over the disarranged library.

XII

TALENT noticed that a cluster of wall lights at one side of the arched doorway leading into the hall shone brightly.

"You put on those lights?" Talent asked Gable.

"No. They was on."

"Oh! Well, maybe the maid." Talent was cataloging the room. "Three of these chairs sat in since the cushions were straightened," he said. That seemed to be primarily for Ripley, whose pencil stub was busily engaged. Talent poked a long finger cautiously into the ashtray, heaped with cigaret butts, beside one of the chairs. "Whoever sat here must have been a chain smoker," he commented. "All Camels."

Talent crossed to the chair beside the low coffee-table, its cushions clearly showing the imprint of a recent occupant. Again the long finger probed the nearby ashtray. "Cigar smoker here," he said, "who stopped halfway through his cigar." Something among the small mounds of fine ash arrested his attention: a small, tightly pressed wad. Talent fished it out, smoothed out a crinkled red and gold cigar band, careful to avoid tearing it. He studied the flattened band briefly, then put it meticulously into a pocket of his vest. "Don't recognize the brand," he commented. He went to the third chair that interested him. "This ever sat here didn't smoke," he said. "At least, the ashtray's clean. But there seems to have been a drink . . . ring on the side table."

Mention of that item caused the lean detective to glance across at the bar. "Nice liquor supply," he said. "Used glasses. Well, Sergeant, maybe your Stella Nelson will be able to give us a little help in here later. Where to now?"

Ben Gable's answer was delayed by a loud hubbub of noises from the front hall . . . a medley of voices. "Upstairs, Lieutenant," Gable said. "If the doc's out there, he's just in time. Sounds like the picture boys are here too."

TALENT, leading the way from the room, stooped and picked up a partly smoked cigaret that obviously had been crushed out under foot on the heavy rug just inside the doorway. "Let me have a sheet of that note paper, Gus," he said to Ripley. "This isn't a Camel. It's a Lucky and it's got lipstick." He rolled the long butt in the piece of paper Ripley gave him and dropped it into a pocket.

Talent knew Dr. Hugh Walker. "We may as well head upstairs," he said to the medical examiner.

"I'll go along up with you," Gable volunteered. "Just gave it a quick once-over when I was up there before. Not pretty. Guess you'll want the camera boys to get busy down here, won't you?"

Hal Jordan, heading a contingent from the photo lab, looked up from a case he was unstrapping. "Yen, where do we start?" he asked.

"The library through there needs a thorough going-over," Talent said. "Then I imagine we'll need you upstairs."

A shaft of brilliant sunshine, split by branches of a tall evergreen, streamed through two windows at a low angle in Miriam Sterling's room.

The medical examiner moved around to the far side of the bed.

Talent looked on from where he stood in the doorway. His stomach wasn't too good for this sort of thing . . . not all at once.

"Plain, ain't it, Lieutenant?" Gable said in almost a whisper. "She heard the burglar working on that open wall safe, reached under her pillow for that little gun, he heard the move, flashed his light on her, picked up that heavy stand maybe from the little table there, and let her have it on the forehead."

COULD have been that way, Talent admitted to himself. He was watching Doc Walker, bent over the body, immune to the terrifying disfigurement of a once finely chiseled human face. A cruel jagged opening just above the bridge of the nose . . . a matting of brownish clotted blood spread over both eyes and across the nose and completely covering one cheek and down on the neck, spreading into dried rivulets toward a half-exposed breast . . .

The position of Miriam Sterling's body, twisted on its right side, bore mute evidence of her last moments of life. The coverlet had been folded back, down to her waistline, as if she had been preparing to get out of the bed, or had freed herself of the covering in the act of turning. Her right arm was crooked sharply at the elbow. Just beyond the rigid fingers of her right hand, as if it had slipped from their lifeless grasp, lay a small pearl-handled revolver. On the folds of the coverlet lay the heavy candlestick that had occupied a place on the teakwood stand beside the bed.

Lieutenant Talent was beside Walker when the medical man raised himself from his task.

"How long dead, doc?" Talent asked.

"Can't say too close. Six hours anyway. Maybe around seven."

Talent looked at his watch. Eight-forty. That would make it between 1:40 and 2:40, he calculated. That would fit in with the little electric clock downstairs . . . stopped at 1:31.

"Better allow leeway . . . could have been longer," Walker amended.

Co. Home Bureau Members Hear Mrs. Milligan

"Holland and Her Rural People" was the subject taken by Mrs. Madge Milligan of the Illinois Home Bureau Federation for her talk to the members of the Lee County Home Bureau at the all-county July meeting held in Amboy, Wednesday.

Mrs. Milligan was one of the 500 delegates from the United States and Canada to attend the conference of the Associated Country Women of the World held in Amsterdam last October. She told of her actual and personal experiences while traveling through the country visiting the people, staying in their homes as their guests, and of their habits and customs. She told also of their cleanliness and how they were able to manage in spite of the shortages and without complaint.

Most of the farms are only three or four acres and the soil is scientifically tested by the government to determine what will grow best on each plot of ground. The very largest farms are from 30 to 40 acres.

The three outstanding characteristics of the Dutch people are their love for their homes, they are very industrious and religious. Because of their love for their homes they are born, educated and live in the same province all their lives. The people Mrs. Milligan met and friends she acquired during her stay in Holland will always be a most valued possession to her. The interesting speaker closed her talk by quoting this phrase, "Peace is not acquired by conference with nations but rather by friendships between individuals."

Mrs. Milton Vaupel, county chairman, opened the meeting at 1:30 and Mrs. Milligan led the group in singing with Mrs. William Kranov at the piano. Following this a trio from Franklin Grove composed of Lovena Gemmell, Belva Calison and Adeline Jasper sang two numbers, "In the Valley of the Moon" and "Happy Plowman." Bertie Lou Pfoutz accompanied the trio.

Mrs. Pfoutz, vice chairman, welcomed the new members and at the close of the meeting a tea was served in their honor. Red, white and blue were colors used on the attractive tea tables. The China unit had charge of the table decorations and floral arrangements. The following units were responsible for the refreshments, Viola, Compton, Harmon, Bradford, May, East Grove and Reynolds. The membership committee, Mrs. Vernon Pomeroy, Lee Center; Mrs. Gust Bauer, Stillette; Mrs. Sylvester Brechon, Marion and Mrs. Blaine Allen, Reynolds presided at the tea tables.

Miss June Pilgrim, home advisor reminded the members of the Homemaker's Camp to be held at Camp Archie Allen on August 2, 3 and 4.

There were approximately 175 Home Bureau members, guests and 4-H girls in attendance. There were also guests from Whiteside and Ogle counties.

FROM WALNUT

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stone and daughter, Norma, and Mrs. Lola Stone of Walnut were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Virden Alshouse on Wednesday.

Walnut Church Is Scene of Pretty July 18, Wedding

Miss Marilou Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Johnson of Walnut, became the bride of Marvin Renwick, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Renwick of Walnut in a beautiful all-white wedding Sunday afternoon at the Walnut Methodist church. The single ring ceremony was read at 3 o'clock by Dr. Forrest Hoisington of Rochelle, district superintendent, in the presence of a large assemblage of friends and relatives.

Baskets of white gladioli against a background of plams, ferns and lighted candles provided a lovely setting for the ceremony.

Miss Betty Abraham played a prelude of nuptial music, the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Miss Rosemary Williams as she sang, "Because", and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white slipper satin, the bodice styled with a lace yoke and round neckline, and long sleeves. The bouffant skirt extended into a short train. Her fingertip veil was edged with lace and held by a cornonet of seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid with a shower arrangement of ribbons. For something old, she wore her grandmother's gold earrings and the gift of the bridegroom was a cross in a rhinestone setting.

Miss Bonnie Johnson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Miss Beverly Renwick and Miss Lois Dimming were bridesmaids. The maid of honor wore a white dotted nylon gown and the bridesmaids wore white organdy, all fashioned alike with off the shoulder neckline and green velvet sashes. The bouquets were alike, colonial nosegays, and the head bands of flowers matched the bouquets.

Robert Renwick, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Dean Ganschow of Walnut and Gene Johnson of Galesburg were ushers.

The flower girls, Anita and Betty Smith of Malden, wore white organdy and carried baskets of white rose petals. Howard Peterson of Walnut was ring bearer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Johnson wore a gray sheer with black accessories and a corsage of white rosebuds. Mrs. Renwick wore a black sheer and a similar corsage.

Church Reception

A reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony. Refreshments were served from a table which had a centerpiece of white gladioli and white candles. A five tiered wedding cake was topped with a white wedding bell. Mrs. Conrad Schmidt of Manlius poured and Mrs. Darlene Pieri of Chicago, aunt of the bride, served the wedding cake. Mrs. Gerald Wilt, Miss Doris Ann Glaze and Miss Marjorie Miller were in charge of the guest book.

The couple left on a short wedding trip, the bride wearing a blue suit and the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

The bride was a member of the 1947 graduating class of Walnut Community high school and has since been employed at the John Deere company in Walnut. The bridegroom was a member of the 1945 graduating class of the same school and after a year's army service has been employed by the Allied Telephone company in Princeton.

The couple will make their home in Walnut for the present.

Guests for the wedding were present from Princeton, Peoria, Shabbona, Manlius, Chicago, Earlville, Malden, Dover, Wyanet, Ohio, Collinsville, Bradford and Galesburg.

Coming Fashions Are Being Told

New York, July 23 — (AP) — Clothes will be more expensive than ever next fall, skirt lengths will remain just below mid-calf for street wear, the silhouette will be slim and wearable and U. S. women will have no complaints about unbecoming styles.

That's the fall picture, as gleaned from the current week of fall previews, attended by fashion editors of leading newspapers throughout the country.

Coming from their home towns armed with protests against further exaggerations of the "new look," the visiting editors have found to their pleasure that this fall's clothes are strictly American, with slim, straight skirts, easy, casual cut and a trimness missing from last year's binchy silhouettes.

Skirt fullness has either disappeared entirely or been drawn to the back, where it creates a pleasant victorian swish. Suit jackets for the most part are becomingly long, managing to cover the hip bulge bemoaned by the average woman.

Next on the list of victims was Herech

Then the killers, after being seen momentarily in southeastern Ohio swept into the northern section and back to the Mansfield reformatory where born bad served time for previous crimes

There before dawn they routed a reformatory official his wife and 21-year old daughter from their beds in their nightclothes, ransacked the residence to obtain a shotgun, rifle and revolver then shot the three to death in a rain swept cornfield The nude bodies of Reformatory Farm Superintendent John Biebel 50, his wife Nolanda 52 and 21 year-old Phyllis red hair done up in pin curl were found hours later

But before they could be captured they struck again last night, taking two more victims to their bloody toll

James Smith 25 Tiffin farmer, and his wife were enroute home after having some ice cream when a gray car crowded their auto to the side of the road One of the occupants of the other car accused Smith of speeding and asked to see his drivers license

Smith produced it but remonstrated when the man attempted to walk off with it The man turned and fired killing Smith then climbed into the rear seat with Mrs Smith threatening to kill her if she screamed

Widow Calls Police

The killers car drove down the road turned and came back and the slayer left Mrs Smith to get into his own car, driving away The young widow ran to a nearby home notified police and police sped to the scene, setting up road blocks

Later at a roadside park near Tiffin Deputy Sheriff Grover Leopold found an abandoned Pontiac car He called for help and officers surrounded a nearby home thinking the two fugitives had holed up there They were not located however and a few minutes later a search of the park disclosed the body tentatively identified as Gschwind. He had been shot twice once in the back of the head and once in the heart

The getaway truck in which the two were finally captured was a Dodge owned by the Bolin Drive away Co home town of which was not disclosed It carried four Studebakers

Mrs West said her son had been a model youth and she could not understand how he could have been guilty of the killings She said she last saw him on June 22 when Daniels came to visit him

West left with Daniels later that day "after John kissed me goodbye as he always did the grief stricken mother related

Mrs West said she had not heard of her son again until last Monday when a reporter told her of reading in a Columbus paper that he was a suspect in the first of the series of Ohio slayings

Loosed White Object

The plane came down to about 150 feet, narrowly missing the antenna of the U N radio station as it twice circled the buildings, then loosed a white, long object

A short time after the bombing a half dozen two-engine "Black Widow" Air Force planes thundered over U N headquarters searching for the mystery plane

Their orders were to force it down at the nearest airfield.

However Gerald D Vaire in charge of state police at Lake Success said the plane which landed at LaGuardia "is definitely the plane that dropped the bomb"

A large map of the Lake Success area with a blue circle drawn around the site of the U N headquarters was found inside the plane a two seater Aeronca

After the plane landed, its pilot told field officials he was going to buy some gasoline, and would return He said he was a student pilot and had flown from Windham Airport, Willimantic, Conn

Chances in Coming

and party campaign songs

Stepping from the train, Wallace declared chances of his party in the coming election "are fine"

Wallace came here from New York He was accompanied by Mrs Wallace and a group of aides

The third party nominee waved aside questions from reporters about communism and party principles He said such questions would be answered at a news conference later in the day

First Attempt Since '24

He did say that chances of his party are "very much better than all of the pollsters indicate"

Wallace's arrival marks the formal launching of the first serious attempt since 1924 to cut across Democratic and Republican lines for a third candidate for the presidency

In that long ago era, the ticket of Robert M LaFollette, Sr, and Burton K Wheeler got about 4 500 000 votes

Estimates now range between this and 9,000 for the vote total likely to be amassed by Wallace and his running mate Senator Glen Taylor (D-Idaho)

But at the New Party convention opening officially here tonight (Sat) gives Wallace almost no chance of election, there was none at the Republican or Democratic conventions to say that his race will not effect vitally the November outcome

The Republicans hope that Wallace and Taylor to be formally nominated tomorrow afternoon will take from the Democrats enough votes in the big population states to clinch the election of their nominee Gov Thomas E Dewey of New York

Democrats Whistle Valiantly

The Democrats whistle valiantly that Wallace a former new dealer will lure as many votes away from the GOP as he does from their party

Meanwhile Albert J Fitzgerald chosen as permanent chairman of the convention, said that labor representatives from every state are represented on a national labor committee supporting Wallace and Taylor

The spicy fly in the third party ointment was the communists that opponents said were calling the signals for the Wallace-Taylor movement.

This charge voiced by the Americans for Democratic Action—an aggregation of former new dealers—provoked Dr Rexford Guy Tugwell into a statement that the assertion was an unscrupulous and demagogic denunciation worthy only the cheapest politics insincere, hypocritical and unmanly.

Tugwell ex Roosevelt brain truster who heads the new party's 74 member platform committee, got cheers from the Wallaceites as he denounced charges made by James Loeb, Jr, ADA executive secretary

Daily Diet of Planks

Then Tugwell fed reporters their daily diet of planks that will be contained in the platform to be adopted at a Sunday session after Wallace and Taylor accept their nominations in a local ball park Saturday night.

Would Ditch Aid Programs

He said the 6 500 word document—longest of any yet written in this convention ridden city—advocates ditching the Marshall plan and the Truman doctrine of aid to Greece and Turkey

It proposes an even stronger civil rights program than those okayed by the Republican and Democratic conventions and plumps for the vote for 18 year olds

Elsewhere the Wallace party's prospects looked up

The Ohio Supreme court ruled that the third party should have a place on that state's November ballot The catch was that Wallace's electoral candidates would have to run without ard designation and voters would have to mark 25 separate names to make their choice count

The rest of the political front was relatively quiet

From his farm at Pawling Governor Dewey announced he will talk Saturday with John Foster Dulles his prospective secretary of state and Senator Arthur Vandenberg chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, about the Berlin blockade crisis.

"IKE" VISITS DEWEY

Pawling, N Y., July 23—(AP) —Gov Thomas E Dewey and Gen Dwight D Eisenhower discussed "the critical" European situation at a surprise conference here today.

Eisenhower, president of Columbia University, came to Pawling at Dewey's request They discussed "European affairs and our military establishment," an aide of Dewey said

The visit of the World War II allied supreme commander in Europe preceded by one day the scheduled conference here by Dewey with Senator Arthur H Vandenberg and John Foster Dulles to discuss the foreign situation in general and the Berlin crisis in detail

Dewey had made no prior announcement of the Eisenhower conference

Ike and Mrs Eisenhower motored from New York City this morning They had lunch with the governor and Mrs Dewey and were to return late today

It was understood that Dewey sought Eisenhower's views particularly on the central European situation

Eisenhower prior to the recent Republican convention had been discussed as a possible candidate by both Republicans and Democrats He made clear however, that he would not accept either brothers right under the skin" but the words are sung with fire and not in fun

So it is with many of their arguments The party slogan is peace, freedom and abundance

As to the first they insist that it is "Wall Street" that wants another war They argue that every Russian move has been merely a counter to some aggressive action motivated by Wall Street" Russia wants peace they say

The word freedom seems to have acquired a different meaning here

The peoples of central and eastern Europe are now described as "free" Their governments were freely elected The martyred Jan Masaryk is not remembered in this hall

Same Line As Radio Moscow

Abundance" The Marshall plan far from helping Europe is merely an instrument for further economic, imperialist penetration" Anyway Sen Glen Taylor said Europe is actually over producing and so the Marshall plan stymients stifle European industries

These same versions of peace freedom and abundance and how to obtain them can be heard almost any night over Radio Moscow They vary not at all from the communist line

Likewise there are officials of the New Party who have followed the communist line, more or less consistently over the years

But you get a brush-off if you mention these parallels In the New Party they say, the communists just don't count.

The words most frequently uttered are "Hitlerite techniques discrimination fascism reaction Red baiting, war-mongering anti semitism" And they are uttered with fire and passion

So Gideon's army

You may regard it as an object for scorn or admiration for ridicule or applause but it is not something to be ignored usually runs about five weeks behind the current price levels It takes this much time to assemble price data and measure the impact on the family budget.

Living Cost Index

Seek Third Victory in 11 Contests

Freed from cellar tenancy after a stay of several weeks, the Dixon Dukes play their semi-final NCIC baseball game of the campaign here this evening, entertaining Princeton at Reynolds field.

The Dukes left the coal hole Tuesday evening by walloping Hall Township, 7-1, behind Bob Devine's four hit hurling while Princeton was losing a twin-bill at Ottawa by identical 19-2 scores.

Tonight, Coach Armand Ruopelle will send either Dave Moore or Jim Mercer to the mound in quest of the club's third circuit win in 11 tries. Both are righthanders.

By winning, the locals can wipe out a 4-3 loss received June 29 on the Tiger diamond.

The only other tilt this evening sends Rock Falls (6-3) to Ottawa (4-7). A game between Hall Township and Sterling at Sterling will not be played due to the Music Festival slated there.

Tribe Will Win: Boudreau

New York, July 23—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians no longer go as Bob Feller goes, says Big Chief Lou Boudreau, who predicts his boys will win the American league pennant because of a more favorable schedule.

"At first I believed that unless Feller had a good season we were sunk," the majors' only playing skipper said last night after his team's 6-5 defeat at the hands of the Yankees.

"I don't think that is so any longer. We've played some of our best baseball since Feller slumped. The boys are hustling every minute and battling for every game."

Boudreau said he sincerely believed Cleveland would win the pennant this year.

"I base my prediction—or let us say hope—on the schedule," he added. "It is all in our favor.

"After all we play 20 of our last 28 games on home grounds. The other three top contenders—Boston, New York and Philadelphia will have a majority of games away. That should be a determining factor.

"Another point in our favor is that while we are meeting such second division outfits as St. Louis, Chicago and Detroit in the final month, the Yankees, Red Sox and Athletics will be playing each other.

"Of our last 28 games only six are against first division clubs."

Olympics to Begin Week from Today

London, July 23 (AP)—The first Olympic competition since 1936 will begin one week from today at six scattered sites in suburban London.

Track and field trials start at the Empire Stadium. Swimming, wrestling, fencing, the modern pentathlon and basketball also are on the opening program.

The 14th Olympiad will be officially opened Thursday afternoon at the Stadium. The games close Aug. 14.

The physical condition of the American team is now regarded as good. Wally Ris, the best U. S. speed swimmer, returned to full workouts today. He had been hampered by a sick knee which had been out of joint since Sunday. It popped back yesterday while the boxer was attending welcoming ceremonies.

Ris' condition was of concern to the French as well as to the Americans. He is regarded as the only man with a chance of beating Alex Jany of France in the free style 100 meter event.

TICKETS PLENTIFUL

London, July 23—(AP)—London simply is not getting steamed up about the Olympic games.

With the start a week away, plenty of Stadium track tickets remain unsold today — how many, no one will say, exactly. Boxing and swimming, however, are sold out.

Dixon's Junior Legion club is to entertain Rochelle at Reynolds field Sunday in a 4 p.m. 13th district league clash.

Ronnie Sitter is expected to draw Dixon's pitching assignment.

Burt Shotton, back with the Dodgers he piloted to a pennant last year, looks over a scoreboard with Toddy Parrott, son of Harold Parrott, Brooklyn road secretary. The genial Shotton is looked upon by Dodgers as a father to them.

Bobtales

By BOB FALLSTROM

The airport softball league has an "odious" look this summer that is disconcerting to many fans and is sharply reducing the quality of play.

Each club is well stocked with veterans. Capable newcomers are in the minority. Outside of the Sloan brothers, Walt Knack, Pinky Walters and a few others, old-timers hold down first string berths.

Many of the vets are extremely valuable performers. But softball is a fast game for youngsters. To continue fielding good teams, Dixon must school its younger generation to become softball minded. And this is definitely not being done.

For many years baseball was neglected hereabouts. Then the Amvets and Armand Ruopelle came along this spring with a magnificent program of kid games that have been a great success.

Why couldn't a similar project be worked out to give kids softball? Several officials connected with the airport loop are of the opinion that such a move should be instituted at once.

Perhaps the league could sponsor such a program in the future, providing the funds are available. It's something to think about.

AUG. 1 RELEASE DATE

Amboy Sportsmen to Free 1,000 Pheasants

Amboy, July 23—(Special)—The Amboy Sportsmen's club plans to release approximately 1,000 pheasants throughout Lee county Aug. 1.

The birds were raised at four pen sites, at the Frank Gehant residence, West Brooklyn, at the Bill Kessel farm, west of Amboy, and at Ed Clink's residence here. Clink has two units.

According to Bert F. Hinrichs, club president, and J. P. O'Rourke, secretary-treasurer the club now has 2,370 pheasants on hand.

Last year 1,067 birds were released. This spring 410 adult breeders were freed, the 367 hens of this flock being held over through the winter for protection against foxes, etc.

Officers of the club from Amboy, Walton, Sublette, West Brooklyn, Franklin Grove, Compton, Ashton, Lee Center and Ohio will be present for the Aug. 1 releasing party.

The pheasants consume almost 100 pounds of feed daily while being raised, costing $6.75 per cwt., besides the cost of caretakers, electricity, pens, brooders and other items.

To help take care of the cost of this worthwhile project, the club is sponsoring a stag and trapshoot Sunday in cooperation with the Amvets post here.

"Up to this time, the Amboy club has been producing more than it has promised. It has accomplished this by the cooperation and interest shown by members and the support received from continued patronage of past trapshoot projects," say Hinrichs and O'Rourke. "The continued expansion of a bigger and better Sportsmen's club is our aim. This can be accomplished by the cooperation of each and every sportsman in Lee county."

STAG-TRAPSHOOT DETAILS

Amboy, July 23—(Special)—A stag and trapshoot, sponsored by the Amvets post here and the Amboy Sportsmen's club, will be held Sunday at Jack Edwards' cabin southwest of town.

Free victuals prepared by professional cooks and entertainment furnished by the Amvets and Sportsmen's club is promised.

Lunch will be served from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. Tickets will be on sale at the gate and rounds will be marked to the cabin.

CROWD MARKS TOPPLE

Cleveland-Yankees Series $$$ Bonanza

(By The Associated Press)

Four clubs are battling for the American league pennant but two teams—Cleveland and New York—are making all the money.

The Indians and Yankees are headed for a new all-time attendance mark of 850,000 and over $1,000,000 for their 22-game inter-club series. Baseball never has seen anything like it because it never had two parks like Yankee Stadium and Cleveland's Municipal stadium involved in a season long flag battle.

Last night's turnout of 68,258 New Yorkers who watched Joe DiMaggio's grand slam homer give the Yanks a 6-5 edge over the Indians, was the third largest to watch the teams struggle.

The teams play each other eight more games and conservative estimates are that they will draw 275,000 in there for an overall total of over $50,000.

DiMaggio's home run, backed up by a splendid relief performance on the part of Tommy Byrne, sent Bobby Feller down to his 12th loss.

Feller gave up all the Yankee runs. Tommy Henrich touched him for a two-run homer in the third and DiMaggio belted his with the bases jammed in the fifth. It was DiMage's 21st of the year.

The Philadelphia A's took advantage of Cleveland's misfortune to advance to within a half game of the lead by nosing out St. Louis in 12 innings, 8-7. Hank Majeski's single with the bases loaded and two out turned the trick against Al Widmar long after midnight.

The big noise of the American league again was provided by the onrushing Boston Red Sox who won another doubleheader, stretching their string to eight straight.

Vern Stephens hammered homers in each game to humble the Chicago White Sox. Denny Galehouse shut out Chicago with five hits, 3-0, in the first game, his second complete game of the year.

Ellis Kinder gave the Chisox eight hits in taking the second, 5-3, with Stephens knocking in three runs.

Detroit fell below .500 again, bowing to Washington, 9-8 in 12 innings after scoring six runs in the first frame.

Boston's National league lead was boosted to 6½ games when the Braves were rained out at Cincinnati and Brooklyn lost to Chicago.

Johnny Schmitz did his usual job on the Dodgers, beating them for the fourth time this year, 6-3, although nicked for 10 hits.

St. Louis and New York split a pair that didn't help either club. Sheldon Jones outpitched Murry Dickson for a Giant 6-3 edge in the opener but the Cards came from behind to take the finale in 11 innings, 7-6.

Pittsburgh trimmed the Phillies, 5-3 in the opener but wound up in a 1-1 tie in a second game that was stopped by rain after five innings. Ralph Kiner's 27th homer was the only Pirate run in the tie game.

Driving Skill to Decide Golf Meet

Reading, Pa., July 23—(AP)—The four record equalling professional golfers tied for the lead in the $15,000 Reading golf tournament are agreed that the winner will be the man with the most potent driver.

The unanimous opinion of E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Rod Munday, Fred Haas Jr., and Johnny Palmer—all tied with 65's after the first 18 holes—was that the rolling, well trapped 6,438-yard Berkshire course was a "driver's paradise."

Munday, York, Pa., pro, summed it up for the quartet when he said, "the golfer who hits that long ball consistently is the one to watch in this tournament."

FREEDOM THROUGH GOVERNMENT

Men well governed should seek after no other liberty, for there can be no greater liberty than a good government.
—Sir Walter Raleigh

Discerning the rights of man, we cannot fail to foresee the doom of all oppression. Slavery is not the legitimate state of man. God made man free.
Mary Baker Eddy

The very idea of the power and right of the people to establish government presupposes the duty of every individual to obey the established government.
—Washington

We must accept the disciplines of democracy as well as its freedoms. Discipline from without flourishes when discipline from within grows weak.
Harry Woodburn Chase

Patriotism is a blind and irrational impulse unless it is founded on a knowledge of the blessings we are called to secure and the privileges we proposed to defend.
—Robert Hall

Only free people can hold their purpose and their honor steady to a common end, and prefer the interest of mankind to any narrow interest of their own.

★ WEEKLY BIBLE COMMENT
Famous Friendships Typify Brotherhood

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

Every school boy knows the story of Damon and Pythias, the two Greeks so loyal to each other in mutual affection that they have typified in the world's life and literature the deepest and strongest relationship between man and man.

They exemplified the words of Jesus, many years before they were uttered—"Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." In that famous story, of course, the loyalty of Damon and Pythias for each other was the means of saving them both.

Pythias, condemned to die by Dionysius, obtained leave to visit his home and left Damon as hostage. But Pythias was delayed and returned barely in time to save Damon. But even a tyrant was not immune to such a show of affection and Dionysius pardoned Pythias.

The outstanding example of such friendship in the Bible is the story of David and Jonathan. In this case the friendship was the more remarkable in view of the jealous hatred of David on the part of Saul, the King of Israel and Jonathan's father. The kindliest thought concerning Saul is that he had become mentally deranged, for in lucid and generous moments he abjured his vengeful feelings and his attempts to kill David to manifest some affection.

The situation might have put a severe strain on both friends. David was resentful toward Jonathan because of his father's hostility, and Jonathan took the part of his father. But their friendship had its roots in a fine integrity of character and withstood every test, until the day Jonathan died with his father in battle.

The lament of David for his lost friend is among the passages that make the Bible a book of literary beauty as well as a book of truth.

Such friendship is brotherhood at its best and typifies the relationship that would exist between all men. Despite our much talk of brotherhood the world is far from the attainment of that high ideal. Even in the most progressive nations we have a long way to go before all men recognize one another as brothers. But such an attainment would be little more than democracy at its best, and it is something toward which we must strive.

Meanwhile, whether we are attached to others in friendship or not, whether we like them or not, we can treat them justly. And we can strive to establish for all the reality of those rights that in our democratic conceptions belong inherently to all.

Greetings From Shaw to Shaw

As he looked forward to celebrating his 92nd birthday on July 26, George Bernard Shaw, famous Irish playwright and author, received greetings and good wishes from a stranger with whom he has much in common—his name. The stranger was George Bernard Shaw, an RAF veteran. In the exclusive photo above, the two GBS's are shown chatting at the playwright's home at Ayot St. Lawrence, England. The younger Shaw said he decided to drop in and see his famous namesake "just for fun."

U. of I. Building Plan Gets Trustees' Okay

Champaign, Ill., July 23 — (AP) Contracts for construction of 106 housing units in two apartment buildings on the Champaign-Urbana campus were authorized yesterday by University of Illinois trustees.

The buildings, to cost $1,222,995 will provide living quarters for staff members and graduate students. Construction is expected to be completed by September, 1949. The John Felmley company of Bloomington was awarded the building contracts.

The project will be financed by a legislative appropriation of $300,000 and a loan of $900,000 from the Great West Assurance company, Winnipeg, Canada.

The trustees also approved a contract with N. W. Ayer & Son, Inc., an advertising agency, for the televising of the school's five 1948 home football games. The agency, representing the American Tobacco company, will pay the school $2,000 a game for the televising privileges. The games will be televised in Chicago and St. Louis by coaxial cable.

Sen. Brooks Flays Truman's Purpose In Calling Congress

Scores Presidential Trip During Last Session; Hits Politics

Chicago—"Never in the history of American politics has a chief executive stooped so low in his desperation to garner votes for his re-election," Senator C. Wayland Brooks, Rep., Illinois, declared here in commenting on the speech made before the final session of the Democratic convention in Philadelphia recently by President Truman.

On the President's plan to recall Congress into session on July 26, the Illinois senator said:

"While the Congress was struggling during the past several months with the major problems confronting this nation, Truman was already on a barnstorming tour, many miles from Washington. He has completely lost beyond redemption, the confidence of the Congress and the American people.

Senator Brooks, currently in Chicago, planning his campaign for re-election in November, reminded the voters of Illinois and the nation that the Constitution of the United States provides that the President may on "extraordinary occasions" convene both houses of Congress.

"Apparently the pending defeat of the Democratic nominee for president in the November election is such "an extraordinary occasion" as to warrant, in his judgment, the convening of Congress."

"The President did not, this time," Senator Brooks continued, "use the often-repeated tactic of stating the existence of an emergency of some kind, but openly and brazenly before a convention of confused Democrats, in the true tradition of a Pendergast machine politician, used his Constitutional power as a political maneuver. I can well recognize, as do millions of Americans, the "political emergency" which confronts the Democratic candidate for President, in the form of his overwhelming defeat at the polls next November.

"The Congress, of course, must accede to the call of the Democratic nominee for President and I know that the Republican members of Congress in this "extraordinary session" will continue to work for the welfare of all the people of America."

A year's output of tin plate from the U.S. steel mills would make a can 11½ miles high and large enough in diameter to enclose Pittsburgh.

This wise father is teaching his little son the simple story of Jesus. He explains each episode in the book and seeks to impress the lesson of each picture on the mind of the child.

The human mind is most receptive and most plastic during the early years of life. Much will be learned and much forgotten in later years, but the vivid impressions of childhood will live on.

Childhood is the time to develop the thought habits and give strength and direction to the character of a child. And there is no better medium for this training than the simple human stories of the Bible.

The parent who neglects such training and permits his child to grow up with wrong impressions about life and duty and faith, is taking a chance on the child's future and passing up one of the gravest responsibilities of parenthood.

Wise parents seek the guidance of God and the aid of the Church in rearing and training their children.
